

What Do You Seek First and Where Do You Seek it?

When all the land of Egypt was famished, the people cried to Pharaoh for bread. Pharaoh said to all the Egyptians, "Go to Joseph. What he says to you, do." So when the famine had spread over all the land, Joseph opened all the storehouses and sold to the Egyptians, for the famine was severe in the land of Egypt. Moreover, all the earth came to Egypt to Joseph to buy grain, because the famine was severe over all the earth.

Genesis 41:55-57

In Matthew 6:31-33 Jesus accused gentiles of going after food and clothing as though they are the most important aspects of life.

They are not.

But they are important, aren't they?

If a famine hit us right where I live, in Central New York, and the only food source available was in Mexico City or Quebec, would I make every effort to connect with that food source, or would I reject it and just accept death by starvation? I believe I would be brushing up on my Spanish or French!

So, if there are things that are more important than food and clothing, shouldn't I be at least as keen to get to wherever those things are available? And, if I got food and clothing thrown in with the deal, would I be happy about that?

Yessir!

Fortunately I have never had to endure a famine, but I think it is good to be prepared mentally. I am thankful to God that I do not have to go on an odyssey or learn a different language in order to get to His Kingdom. When Jesus was on Earth the message was, "Repent for the kingdom is near!" (Matthew 3:2). John the Baptizer did not say, "Repent because a famine is coming"; His message was even more urgent than that. Since Jesus has gone back to Heaven, the message is, "Therefore, since we are receiving a kingdom that cannot be shaken, let us be thankful, and so worship God acceptably with reverence and awe." (Hebrews 12:28)

The Kingdom is here with us, but we still have to think and behave appropriately. Would you be willing to give up food for the Kingdom? Joseph demanded that his brothers and father should come to Egypt and obey his will in order to get food. They chose to do that rather than starve to death. Shouldn't we choose to serve God in repentance, rather than be eternally condemned?
